

Mysteries in your eyes
Tous droits réservés © Bernard Beaulé 2026

[Musical intro]

[Verse 1]

The first time I saw you, mysteries shone in your eyes.
A smile that held secrets, drawing me closer, no disguise.
Years went by, yet your presence still ignites my soul.
Every glance, every laugh makes me feel complete and whole.
Ten years later, you asked me why my heart is true.
I could only whisper softly, "You gave my life a purpose to pursue."
Through every season, through every high and low,
You pull the best from me, more than I could ever show.

[Chorus]

Danielle, your eyes have taught mine to see
All that we are, all that we can be.
Together, our love flows endlessly.
Forever, you and I, bound eternally.

[Verse 2]

The memories linger, like echoes in the night.
Every touch, every word, makes the world feel right.
You've drawn me out, made me better than I knew.
And every day, I find myself falling deeper for you.
No mystery has faded, your smile still pulls me near.
With every moment shared, our connection becomes clear.
Through fifty years, through joy and trials we've known,
Your love has shaped my heart, made our bond fully grown.

[Chorus]

Danielle, your eyes have taught mine to see
All that we are, all that we can be.
Together, our love flows endlessly.
Forever, you and I, bound eternally.

[Bridge]

Every glance reveals a truth words cannot convey.
In your arms, I find my home, come what may.
Our journey, a tapestry woven of our own design.
In every heartbeat, your love forever shines.

[Chorus final]

Danielle, your eyes have taught mine to see
All that we are, all that we can be.
Together, our love flows endlessly.
Forever, you and I, bound eternally.

[Outro]

With you, Danielle, I've found my guiding light.
Through every day and dream, our hearts take flight.